

Heat Pump Water Heater Facebook Ads

Why should you use Facebook paid social?

With thousands of people on social media every day, advertisers use these platforms to reach potential customers. Instead of targeting users based on keywords or search phrases, Facebook ads target people in specific areas based on factors such as age, gender and behavior. When choosing parameters, keep in mind: too few inputs will result in an audience that is too broad, while narrower audiences will cost more to reach.

Set a budget

When deciding on your advertising budget, it's OK to start small, around $10/day, and increase the budget when the campaign settings are dialed in.

Track performance

Monitor performance with Facebook's Ads Manager tool, particularly the cost-per-click, or CPC, which measures the cost effectiveness of your ads. A good goal for your CPC is $2 or less. Improve performance by adjusting the targeting and budget.
